

Sun City Resort

History was made in 1979 when Sun City was opened in the North West to become the best holiday resort in South Africa, and for good reason.

Home to the Valley of Waves and sprawled along the border of the Pilanesberg National Park, Sun City Resort enjoys the fine distinction of being the only surf-and-safari destination within a two-hour drive of landlocked Johannesburg. Whether you're looking for a romantic stay with your partner, a fun weekend getaway with friends or a North West holiday with the whole family, Sun City Resort has it all.

Valley of Waves

Picture a palm-fringed beach lapped by crystalline waters. Imagine yourself on a sun lounger as the sun sets over the valley and the roar of the waves muffle to the sound of the DJ's beats. Now, imagine this tropical paradise only a short drive from Johannesburg. Valley of Waves at Sun City gives you a chance to go from Daily Grind to Unwind in less than two hours. This is where city slickers and urban families find their place in the sun. The legendary Roaring Lagoon at the Valley of Waves is the undisputed main attraction at the Sun City's famous water park. Every 90 seconds, bender waves rise two metres in the air. Catch the tide and body-surf to shore. Laze beneath a wind-swept palm, ride and slide your way to more thrills, and amble over to the beach bar where island cocktails and after-swim snacks await. There's something for everyone at the Valley of Waves. Kids can get their kicks in the designated children's area while adventure-seekers can take their pick of mild to wild rides. Get your splash on at the Valley of Waves Sun City water park.

Adrenaline Junkies

Perhaps even more famous than the Valley of Waves, the Temple of Courage is a 17-metre adrenaline rush down a 70-metre drop. Hurtle down an almost vertical slide, under a bridge and land with a splash in a small pool. There are also two body slides – the Tarantula and the Scorpion, and two tube rides – the Viper and the Mamba.

Relaxation

The Lazy River offers a gentle, non-stop tube ride around an island while The Royal Baths swimming pool beside the Amphitheatre offers a place to soak up some warm sun rays, cocktail in hand. Take a stroll through the tropical forests surrounding the Valley of Waves and discover the Spider Web Sway Bridge, hidden cave waterfalls with its rare plant varieties and more.
